Reportico

Reportico (https://www.reportico.org) is an open source PHP reporting tool for web sites which use MariaDB (MySQL).

It used to have excellent documentation but something happened to the web site and the old documentation is no longer accessible. However, the new documentation is being created as the tool is updated.

I'm putting some of my notes that I have found in this section so I don't lose them, as I still use this product regularly.
